

Mrs. Alice Rhoads and sister will leave for Los Angeles tonight by way of the Salt Lake route.

A great deal of interest is attached to the golf handicap tournament to be begun on Wednesday at the Country club. This is the first cup offered by the club since it was installed in its new home, and the series of events bids fair to be extremely popular. A great many of the women players of the club have entered. Next Wednesday will witness the qualifying game. From that time onward the games will last practically through the month, eight players qualifying. Among those who have entered are Mrs. Robert C. Gemmell, Miss Katherine Judge, Mrs. George Steiner, Miss Marge Miller, Mrs. Jack Taylor, Miss Genevieve McCormick and several others.

Word comes from New York of the rehearsals for Ned Royle's new play, "The Struggle Everlasting," which opens during the month. The leading part has been given to Florence Roberts, and DeWitt Jennings, who has many friends in Salt Lake, has one of the leading male parts. Mr. Royle writes that all the rehearsal work has been most satisfactory, and friends predict a marked success for the drama.

With the return of autumn has come a cessation of the festivities of the summer time. The youths and maidens who have spent the long vacation in their homes are returning to schools and colleges and leaving the frivolities of the summer behind. The older members of the household are settling to the affairs of the winter, and the change will be most apparent in plans for entertaining.

The news that Mr. and Mrs. Louis S. Gates are to move to town to make their home will be welcomed by their friends here. Although they have been back and forth continually, it will be greatly to the liking of their friends to have them nearer by. They have bought the handsome Warren home at Second and T and will soon be settled there.

Sweet charity will be well represented at the card party to be given Tuesday at the Ladies' Literary club for the benefit of the Hospital Aid society. The women who have the matter in hand have been working untiringly for the success of the affair, and it is likely that their efforts will be rewarded.

A number of the college boys who have passed the vacation in the city will give a college dance at Saltair next Saturday evening as a sort of farewell to "The good old summertime." The affair is in the hands of some of the upper class men and will include all the desirable elements to be in it.

Numerous delightful society affairs have been given for Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Hanchette since their return to this city. After an absence of two years on the coast, they have decided to reside permanently in Salt Lake. They will build another handsome home here.

Women's Clubs.

With the opening of the women's club season, the autumn comes the first thoughts of the annual meeting of the state federation which will be held this year in Ogden late in October. The club women are centering their efforts this year on the construction of the marital trading building on Canyon Crest, and work has already begun on the excavations for that building. It is hoped that it may be completed by the time of the October meeting. The building is to be of frame, and will be about 20x40 feet in size. It will have a blacksmith shop in one end and a carpenter shop in the other. The plans are being made by W. H. Lepper, and lumber and other materials are being donated by the purpose of the money raised by the club women during the past year.

The Canyon Crest movement started by the club women now nearly two years ago at Springville, has become a reality, largely through the efforts of a few devoted and unselfish women who have mothered the idea, and also the poor homeless boys who have found life in more abundance than they had ever known it in the pure air and the wholesome environment there. The work done by these women has been only slowly recognized by the people at large, but the recognition is coming. Late in August a delegation of the Salt Lake principals and supervisors, led by Miss Rosalie Pook, visited the ranch, going out in conveyances hired for the purpose. Needless to say they saw a work the proportions of which they had never even guessed at, and they were not slow to express their cordial approval. Not content with that (as some more able have been), they sent on their return a check for $55 for the good of the cause. An effort is being made to have the members of the board of education see the work. The boys now there at Salt Lake boys, who have been either put out or kept out of the city schools, and yet there is for them this winter no prospect of a school because there are no teachers for them. There is there an assured income for any purpose, and the late storms of the past summer added to by the grasshoppers blighted a crop of small cucumbers planted to fill an $1800 contract with a pickle company. Despite all this, the boys are thriving and there is a good living assured them. The big new shop will provide a practical education for them, and the club women hope to be able to do more for them still at the federation meeting.

The opening of the year's work in club lines has already taken place, the Bay View Reading club leading off with a meeting during the past week. The Ladies' Literary club will begin its regular meetings this week, a splendid program being outlined for the year.
